That is to say, they have been forewarncan be no excuse offered. I have been discussing with an educated Chinese in regard to what the future of opium is likely to be in China. He had not the least hesitation in affirming that at no distant date the habit will be eradicated in China. The new Government is quite firm in regard to the matter. A large number of the educated and leading people of the Empire are in deadly op-

A BRUTAL DEED.

Robbers a few evenings ago made a phrase with the Chinese of somewhat vague meaning. Anyway it may be assumed that the line does not pay, and what is more the loss is considerable. Two reasons are assigned for this lack of success. First, as is well known, lately the fares on the river boats between Canton and Hongkong have been low. But it is assumed that these will be always lower than the train fare will be, and, therefore, there can be no escape from this competition. The more angry growl is against the way the line is worked. It is said that with the exception of the one so called express train, which runs between Canton and Hongkong, there is no effort made to realize speed with the others. Indeed, there is an enormous amount of time wasted. Not only are the trains slow but they stop and are delayed at the stations, beyond, what may reasonable be expected, and whilst this sort of indifference is shown to the needs of travellers, things will remain as they are or/will'become worse. It seems that people are not addicted to opium as they as the result of these complaints, the

THE UNITED STATES GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

WHEATON (Tilinois) Sept. 3. Unless Mr Norman Hunter can now make the effort of his life-and he is a diffi cult man to rouse into making such an effort, although he is capable of it-British interest in the American Amateur Championship, so far as winning it is concerned, will seen be gone, for to-day Mr Hilton was most unexpectedly beaten in the first round of the match-play by Mr C. C. Waldo, a young player from Bridgeport, Connecticut, who has hitherto had nothing 1935 but a local reputation, having twice won the championship of his State. He beat Mr Hilton in the first round on the 31 st green by two holes up and one to play and thoroughly deserved his victory.

> MB HILTON'S POOR FORM. Mr Hilton played far below his form nearly all day. He certainly did not hold his man too cheaply and was not careless, but he could neither drive nor put, and I, who have seen him play on many notable occasions, have not seen him play warse in recent times in any big event. On an average three out of four shots with his wooden clubs put him into the rough, first on one side of the course and then on the other. His recoveries were almost invariably splendid, but when he seemed to have stoned for his bad tee-shots he went wrong again with-his putting, and for the mos favourites. part was timid and short. He himself cannot advance much reason for his defeat. except the trying climatic conditions, but I have a strong suspicion that the new driver which he has been playing with since he came to Wheaton-it was made in Ohio and is very heavy in the head -was too much for him. He simply could not hit a straight tee-shot. On the other hand, his opponent, who is ery young, tall, and slender, plays in glasses and dées not look much like a great golfer, played extremely steady golf. Ho drove and putted well and took every chance that the Englishman gave him.

THE MATCH!

After four halved holes, Mr Hilton became 1 up at the 5th. He lost his advan tage at the next hole, however, and then Mr Waldo began to forge ahead. He was 3 up at the turn, 6 up at the 17th, and Enished the round with a lead of 5 holes. The scores for this round were :-

Mr Hilton. - Out: 4, 4, 4, 4, 3, 6, 5, 5, 5 = 38 Home: 3, 5, 4, 5, 4, 5, 4, 5, 4=39 Total, 77

Mr Waldo. -Out: 4, 4, 4, 4, 5, 5, 4, 4, 2=36 Home: 5, 5, 3, 5, 4, 4, 3, 4, 5 = 38 Total, 74

It may be said that in this round Mr Hilton was unlucky and that his opponent was sometimes fortunate, but the luck of a game is always expected to go with the man, who is playing the better, as Mr Waldo was

Mr Hilton might, of course, have gr. ally improved the situation in the afternoon. but he was again quite unable to drive straight and was very feeble with his approaches. The 1st hole was weakly ply ed by both men, and at the 2ud, although it was halved like the other, Mr Hilton's play was very poor. First of all be pulled his tee-shot into the rough, and then was short with his approach, short with his rum up, and short with his put. At the 3rd hole he again pulled his drive into the rough and found his hall in a desperate place, behind a high mound and some 150 yards from the green. From here he made, one of the fidest recoveries imaginable and reached the green, only to see Mr. Waldo run down a long put to win the hole and become 6 up. Mr Hilton had ouce been the American became 7 up. at of bounds in the morning, and he was out of bounds from the 4th tee again, and however, won the 6th and 7th, and now play, and seemed still to have a good chance of saving the match. More weakness, chiefly pulled second shots, bugan to creep into his game after this, however, and the end came on the S5th green, where he failed to run down a 4itput, possible for the hole, his opponent

MR HUNTER'S VICTORY.

Mr Norman Hunter was playing his best game against Mr Robert Watson, the secretary of the United States Golf Association, who is a strong opponent. Mr Hunter was 2 up at the end of the first round, and won the match by 3 up and 2 to play. He was driving a splendid ball and putting well, and such form as this may carry him a long way in the competition; but the general opinion now is that the Championship will fall to one of the Americans, Mr Jerome Traver and Mr Charles Evans being the

To-day Mr Evans, who was playing extent in the afternoon. - Putting is generally his weak point, but otherwise he is playing a pretty game, and he won his match by 3 up and 2 to play. Mr Jerome Travers was driving better this morning than for a long time past, and he seems to be coming on to his very best game. He had as his opponent "Mr Sherman, the eldest son of the Vice-President of the

SIGNING ON AS MASCOT

Theatre Luck Won by Smoking Cigare.

In consideration of one niger par night from the Louis Meyer management, I undertake to transfer my presence from the front of the Apollo Thestre to the Strand Theatre when "The Glad Bya is transferred to that theatre, and continue to maintain my position outside the Strand Theatre throughout the run of The Glad Eye during the continuance of the management's remuneration of the said eigar per night.

I also undertake to wear the white gloves provided by the management, and this is a condition of the engagement. (Signed) A. MOZONT.

Signed in a crabbed hand, the above agreement surely constitutes one of the quaintest compacts ever made between man and man. The signatory to it is Ali Molony, who has greated the new proession of mascot, A tailor by profesrion, Molony fell a victima to a paralytic stroke that unfitted him for sowing. At fifty-odd years his plight was a sad one, for in those days when a man is reckoned too old at forty the world is not kind to those who lose their foothold. Ultimately he began to collect discarded cigarette and cigar ends in the streets. He became a familiar figure to the door-keeper and ultimately to the manager, Mr. Bernord Hishin, when "The Glad Eye" opened at the Globe Theatre. The glad eye evidently captivated him. Promptly at 8.30 every night he haunted the entrance of the theatre smoking a treasure-trove eigar stump with a lordly air, as he watched rank and fashion disappear behind the swinging doors of The vestibule. After his smoke he went straight home, nor did any other haunts ever entice him. While he was there the play flourished, and flourished still when he followed it to the Apollo, whither it was transferred.

Then the management, with a superstition that seems to characterise even the most business-like of men, became convinced that he was a mascot, and conveyed the welcome news to the old endpicker that a smokable cigar awaited him each evening at the box-office if he cared to ask for it. He did care; and promptly at half-past eight each night he has made his application and received the cigar.

One night recently the commissionaire received a shock; the well-known figure of the little man was missing, and the heart of the management sank in its boots. A black cat adopted as a sort of substitute brought the reverse of good luck: the uninterrupted fortune that had smiled for eight months threatened suddenly to vanish. An' expedition "was therefore, sent out to recover Molony at any cost, and it did so, and signed him on as mascot-extraordinary, thus ensuring that he would transfer his aura of good luck to the neighbourhood of the Strand when at the end of the month "The Glad Eye" commenced to wink in Aldwych "He takes things quite philosophically," said an official at the Apollo, " and he's glad to go along with us. The guv'nor has turned the matter over, and the contract doesn't stipulate for any cash consideration. We don't like parting with cash—it might break the charm. But last night a new box of 100 eigars was cracked, and the little man claimed his weed, and in his white gloves, glorying not a little in his novel appointment, blew clouds of smoke and cast his 'influence ' around."

PENSION OF £3750.

Rapid Reward for Political Services.

The." London Gazette" contains a notice that an annuity of £3750 for life has been; granted to Lord Robson, on his retirement from the position of Lord of Appeal-in Ordinary, commencing August 1, and pay. able quarterly. Lord Robson is only 60. AODOWNS in No. 944 and No. 940 years of age.

As an instance of rapid promotion for political services by a Liberal Government. the career of Lord Robson is interesting. The Liberal Government came into power n 1906. Since that date Lord Robson has -been Solicitor-General (1906-8), Attorney-General (1908-10), and a Lord of Appeal. with a life peerage. For these pervious heis now entitled to a pension of £3750. During his previous political carses as Mr Robson he was M'P. for Bow and Robson for South Shields from 1905-10. Lord Robson was called to the Bar in 1880. and was Recorder of Newcastle, 1895-1905 of Commons he succeeded in scoring a big success as a private member by placing ou the Statute-book the Helf-Timers Act. He was born at Newcastle, and graduated at

"After a very short period of judicial service as a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary," says the "Law Journal," Lord Robson has found it necessary on the advice of his doctors to retire. . Lord Robson had not the opportunity, unfortunately, of NO. 12, BEACONSFIELD ARCADE making his mark in our judicial annuals, First floor, but at the Bar he gained a distinguish. ed reputation as a commercial lawyer, and in the House of Commons, unlike many legal members, he early gained tion, chesh rent.

General he made a dignified head of the Rev. and perhaps his greatest legal service was his successful presentation of the British case in the Newfoundland Fisheries Arbit. ration at The Hagne in 1910. It is to be hoped that his large experience of affilfs will not be altogether lost to the nation, and that, though iree from the duties of a Lord of Appeal, he will be able from time our part of Kowloon Inland Lot No. 1154. to time to meist the House of Lords and the Judicial Committee, where his large democratio sympathies will be especially

THE SITUATION IN CHINA.

Doctor Sun Yat-sen and Mr. F. Young's

Tolegraphing on 1st inst. the Peking correspondent of the " Daily Telegraph states:-

Desiring to see if he could throw any light upon the general situation which prevails throughout the country, I paid a visit to Dr. Sun Yat-son yesterday. I plied him with questions, which he answored genially, but he was emphatic with regard to only two points. The first of these was that a change of capital from Peking was absolutely essential, and would be continually agitated for. And, secondly, that the process of re-organisation was rapidly going forward in his own province of Kuang-tung. It would soon have a monthly budget of Tls. 5,000,000, which would give a handsome surplus, and its progress would serve as a model for provincial reorganisation on larger questions involving the nation generally. Dr. Sun Yat-sen seemed to be out of his depth, although it is only fair to admit that many statements ascribed to him Worried; thinking have been published without his own necessary qualifications. He emphatically denied the report that he was proceeding immediately to Europe and capital for the gigantic network of railways which has already been mapped out. "I can do nothing in the money mar-> troubles have ceased." Mr. F. Young, writing to the "Westminster Gazette" on the recent exaggerated reports concerning the Chinese

ket," he admitted, " until the nation shows a solid front and the internal situation, says:-The public may now come to the conclusion that it was previously attempted to make a mountain out of a molehill Alarming reports not only tend to frighten business men and investors in Chinese bonds, but may do much to retard the progress of China-a contingency the British people should be the last to desire, especially considering our vast commercial interests in that land of many millions. China's plucky efforts to throw off the yoke of a corrupt Government at least deserve our genuine sympathy. Included in the news items of the same day there was also a report of Dr. Sun Yatsen's project of railway construction and s hint to the British to be on the alert to secure contracts. Those who know the Chinese people cannot but admit they are grateful race. If we do them a favour in this their hour of need, gratitude alone will prompt them to transact much of their business with British contractors, at least commercially concerned in the welfare of the Far East. The population of China comprises one-fourth of the human race. They have determined to institute a Republican form of gove ment, and the assistance of Great Britain in promptly securing its official recognition by the other great Powers should be esteemed beyond measure by the Chinese. peoples.

On 5th ult the trooping season of 1912-13 opened with the departure from Southampton of the troopship Soudan for the Cape with some 1,200 soldiers on board for various arms of the service in that country, These include the 22nd Brigids Royal Field Artillery from Cahir for Pretoria, and various infantry drafts. From: the Cape the Soudan will convey the 2nd Batvalien South Wales Borderers to Tientsin, North China, the lat Battallon Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers from North China to Madres (for Secundarahad) and the 6th Dragoon Guarda from the Cape to home (for Canterbury) reaching Southampton again on Jan. 16 next.

SPENDTHRIFT'S DEATH.

£200,000 in Five Years.

Irving Childs, a young man of 26 years, the most spectacular youthful spendthrift New York's "gay white way," as Broadway is called, has ever known, died yesterday at the New York Neurological Hospital after five years spent in throwing away nearly £200,000? Childs, who was known to the habitues of Broadway as " the grand young boob," a New York term for a harmless scatterbrain, inherited from his father's estate an income of 4:20,000 a year on his twenty-first birthday, and later came intoa further inheritance, which he employed in Stock Exchange operations with Alad din-like tuck. All his income he seat tered along his Broadway haunts. He had a great regard for his powers as detective, and had himself accepted as deputy sheriff. In the nominal employ of the city, he carried a pair of gold handeuffs and a gold revolver studded with gems. He was known to all the Broadway detectives, and frequently when some unimportant arrest was to be made Childs bribed a detective to permit him to arrest the prisoner. It was his greatest delight to seize a petty criminal and to shout: "I arrest you in the name of America in order to attempt to raise the law," and then snap his gold handcuffs on the man's wrists.

He always refused to sign cheques or papers except at his bank, declaring that he did not want to give forgers a chance to imitate his signature. Anyone who would introduce him as "Mr. Irving Childs, the famous detective, formerly of Scotland Yard," could always borrow money from him.

One of his favourite diversions was to take a number of chorus girls out to ding ner and to offer a valuable prize for the girl eating the most. He was hever known to refuse a loan to any woman with the slightest claim to beauty. He was one of the famous Broadway figures, and was always pointed out to visitors as the youth who hated to do anything conventional." Soon after inheriting his fortune Childs married, but his wife left him shortly afterwards. Childs collapsed a month ago, and was under nerve specialists whon he caught pneumonia, and he had no strength to resist the attack. Broad way's habitues, while calling hiz 'boob," declare he was of a lovable an childlike nature; but that he had been spoiled by improper discipline in hi to survey the work of the new Government since they came into power. Power they have possessed for fully nine months, and though it was but to be expected that little or nothing would be entisfactorily performed a considerable amount of "spade" work had been engaged in it must be admitted that legitimate expectations have been somewhat disappointed. The leaders have not made the most of their time or opportunities. Perhaps, however, that is a little too much to expect from the Chineseeven the westernised Chinese-who, notwithstanding the fact that they have imbibed western ideas, still retain much" of their innate conservatism. It surely, however, might reasonably, be expected that something towards establishing a solid Central Government might be accomplished, for until that is realised it fulle to hope that homogenous action by the Republic can be expected; and the Peking officials may be busy about, Shanghai. the provinces will strike out on their own path and in their own way. The time is long overdue for such a Government being established, and until it is established little that is satisfactory and certainly nothing that it permanent can be expected. And it cannot be said that those in power have been as successful as they might in securing loans. The unseemly squabble over the Six Groups Loan was not likely to cause other nations to place much reliance upon China's financiers, particularly the childish part played by Tang Shao Yi, though none, we imagine would condemn him in standeratic proceedings proposed to him as

H. M. S. "Lurcher", one of pecial torpedo boat destoyers of 'Firedrake" type ordered by the British Admiralty from Mossrs Yarrow and Co., of Glasgow, had a most successful official speed trial on Friday, Septemher 13th. On the Skelmorlie deep water measured mile on the Clyde she attrined, during a continuous run of eight hours, the mean speed of 35.34 knots, thus exceeding the contract speed of 32 knots by 3.34 knots. The vessel is 255 ft. long by 25 ft. 7 in. beam, and is propelled by Parsons turbines, driving two shafts, the steam being supplied by three Yarrow water tube boilers fitted with the firm's Intost feedheating device. The "Lurcher" is one of the fastest destroyers that has ever been built, and is an important addition to the British Navy. The type is one which is likely to largely adopted by the Admiralty. trial of the "Lurcher," is therefore of special interest.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN WILLIAMSON

The death is announced in the Singapore papers of Captain James Williamsson, of the Pilot Association, at the General Hospital, Singapore. The deceased, who returned from Home leave in the early part of this year, had been in somewhat indifferent health lately; and about a week ago, while on duty, had a slight shock of paralysis on the left side, which necessitated his taking a rest. During the week he improved wonderfully, and he was quite confident of his ability to return to work. He went on His Honour the Chief Justice lett. best of spirits. About half-past seven in the evening, however, he had a second attack, just as sudden and unexpected as the first. Medical aid was summoned and he was removed to the General Hospital about 9.30 p.m. He never regained consciousness and died during the early hours of the morning.

A big Australian musical invasion of England is contemplated next year. The commonwealth musical societies have under consideration a proposal to organise an Australian choir of 100 voices for an English tour. Busy scenes are witnessed these days at practically all our local slipways and boat building establishments. All the managers admit that business is very fair. At Ah King's evidence of the approaching yachting season is very apparent, more than 20 yachts being on the slips for general overhaul and repainting, getting ready for the opening cruise which is to take place early in November. Another feature is the large number of eargo boats under construction at the yards in Sam Shui Po for local merchants. We understand that the square ended cargo bout is ousting the old sailing junk from the position of cargo carrier, as in these days of plentiful steam launches it is found to be more convenient and expeditions to load up big cargoes and have them towed to their destina-

CELEBRATION OF TRAFALGAR

(To the Editor of the " China Math")

Dear Sir,-The Executive Committee of the Navy League have again decided to make a public appeal for the observance,-"throughout the Empire, of Trafalgar Day, Monday, 21st October next. The effort made in 1911 in order to achieve this The draw which took place at the Club | object, was crowned with very great success; but it is confidently hoped that this year, the manifestation of universal patriotic feeling will become more than ever intensified and widespread.

The particular desire of the Executive Committee of the Navy League is to bring home to the mind of the British people the dominating significance of sea power in our National and Imperial life; to make more completely understood the close relationship which exists between our Imperial prestige and the efficiency of the Navy, and to impress the popular imagination with the fact, that the Navy is our great and only National insurance, and that upon its unassailable strength, Mr. A. W. W. Walkinshaw c. Mr.G. S. the continuance of our industrial vitality and our commercial vigour depend.

The memory of Nelson recalls all that is finest in British naval tradition, and the commemoration of his great victory the semi-final by 10th November, and the at Trafalgar must continue to exercise. powerful influence upon the mind of the people of the whole Empire.

The Executive Committee cornestly

(1) That, on Monday, the 21st October. next, wherever possible, public meetings should be held and addressed by prominent local people. These meetings the Association Rooms. Mr H. Syken should be entirely non-party in character and confined solely to an appeal for widespread recognition of a vigorous naval policy as a vital necessity of the nation's existence, and as the best means to do > honour to the memory of Nelson. (2) That school fetes and demonstrations by school children should be organised, so that the mind of the rising generation should be directed towards the realisation of what the name of Nelson

> (3) The decoration of public buildings by fligs and scrolle bearing the ever tressured legend " England Expects the Every Man will do his Duty."

(4) The encouragement of the exhibi tion of flags and suitable mottoes on privata houses. The Navy Leagus confidently hope that the public response to this appeal will be of such magnitude that in very few years

QUARTETTE.

The Hostonian Quartette made, their but before a Hongkong audience at the O Theatre Royal last night. There was a very good sudience, and the programme submitted was very highly approclated. The Quartette soon proved themselves to L be a thoroughly trained combination, and the blending of their voices, in the many boautiful airs they song was truly delightful. They were perliaps, most sacossaful in "Remember Thy Creator." O ... Aunt Marjery ... Kentucky Babe and Good Night, but in all their quartettes they gave a highly creditable performance. Meests. Oakes, terior, and Mr. Schutz, bass, sang solos with prest acceptance, both having very fine voices. Mr. Evans proved himself a most sympathetic accompanist at the pianor and his solos were a lesture of the programma Mr. Thomas humorous readinga were wonderfully clover out, bis description of "Uncle Links at the Thousand was undoubtedly one of the most excrudistingly amusing ploces bears n Hongkoug for many a day.
